Things To Do

This image shows a full page of handwriting practice paper. It contains eight horizontal rows, each designed for practicing letter formation. Each row begins with a small, empty square box on the left side, intended for writing a number or a letter. To the right of this box are three horizontal lines: a top solid line, a middle dashed line, and a bottom solid line, providing a guide for letter height and placement. The entire page is white and contains no other markings or text.

This image shows a blank sheet of primary-ruled paper. It features eight sets of horizontal lines, each consisting of a solid top line, a dashed midline, and a solid bottom line. On the left side of the page, there are eight square boxes, one aligned with each set of lines, intended for writing a student's name or other identifying information. The rest of the page is empty, providing space for handwriting practice.
